Historic contribution by France to the International Fund for Agricultural Development.

Dear Global Citizens

Many of you were in Paris last June, for the Paris Pact for People and Planet. We do believe that we have to fight together against poverty, climate change and for biodiversity.

This is why we want to take our part and to follow up on these efforts. We decided to invest 150 million dollars in IFAD, the International Fund for Agricultural Development. France decided to host and organise the 13th replenishment conference of IFAD, and we launch now the auctions by taking this commitment.

We will invest 150 million dollars in IFAD for the years to come in rural areas, the poorest rural areas.

This is the biggest commitment ever to IFAD.

I count on you. Thank you so much.
